

The Gulf Coast Kiln Walk Society's
Fifth Biennial

GULF COAST CLAY CONFERENCE

Featuring

Jan McKeachie Johnston and Randy Johnston

February 7, 8, 9, and 10th, 2018

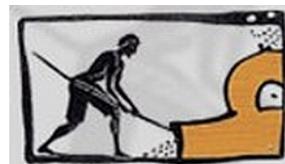

Slide Show Lecture on Weds. the 7th,
Seminars and Demos the 8th and 9th and the Woodstoke Pottery and Kiln Fest on Sat. the 10th

At

Anna Lamar Switzer Center for Visual Arts
at Pensacola State College, Pensacola, FL
and
The Kiln Walk Anagama Site, Navarre, FL

Register at www.GulfCoastKilnWalk.org Fee: $125.00

Or mail to: Tom Grow,
1060 Fort Pickens Road,
Pensacola Beach, FL 32561

Master potters and teachers Jan McKeachie Johnston and Randy Johnston, lead the seminars with demonstrations and discussions grounded in their experience, knowledge and mastery of the ceramic arts. Currently a ceramics professor at the University of Wisconsin - River Falls, Randy has worked with ceramics for more than thirty eight years. Known for both his functional form work and his aesthetic expression with contemporary vessels, Johnston is also known for his contributions to the state of the art in wood firing techniques.

Jan's work has also been recognized in exhibitions, shows, galleries and in feature articles in Ceramics Monthly and Clay Times. Both Jan and Randy have work in numerous museums and private collections, nationally and internationally. GCKW is proud to welcome them to the Clay Conference.

The Woodstoke Pottery and Kiln Fest on Saturday will be an opening of the Anagama kiln and the historical Ralph Howard Phillips Groundhog kiln in Navarre. Pots fired over the previous weeks will be unloaded. Visit our website at www.GulfCoastKilnWalk.org for more information.

PENSACOLA STATE COLLEGE

SANTA ROSA
Arts & Culture
FOUNDATION INC.

For more information contact: Robin Zehr, Chairman 850-554-3829
Schedule details, Google locations and lodging suggestions will be at www.GulfCoastKilnWalk.org.